Longstrees and Early had been reinforced however, and there appears to be some mystery in their movements. It is sumored that they are proceeding South for the purpose of intercepting Sherman. There is still a deal of blueter in Sheridan's despatches, and we fanny there must be more obstructions in the Valley than is generally supposed. That a Confederate force is there to keep Sheridan comployed and to prevent his forming a junction with Grant, there can be no doubt. It is assuredly not all confeur de rose with Sheridan, for as several "raiding "parties have crossed the Potoniac, there must be a force operating in his rear. The Federals continue to shell Charleston, but we do not find that much effect was being being produced by the operation. There are rumors of an organised movement on the part of Mr. President Lincoln to bring about peace. It is said he proposes that com-Depth of missioners shall be appointed by both bellige-water on reats, for the purpose of discussing matters in and at the hope of hitting on a peace basis. On the other hand it is contended, if Charleston and Work- Savannah can be taken, that the States o Georgia, North Carolina, and Alabama will rejoin the Union, and Mr. Lincoln's pacific intentions are merely confined to the negociations with the Governors of those States and Iron. This seems very probable, in which case Grant's aimy will possibly proceed South. It may be that Sherman is bound in that direction, but with Hood and Beauregard on his killing him ofther with ble own bands, or by causing his fall from the railway carriage. I recollect particularly on one occasion, when I represouted to him the crime as likely to have taken place in this way, he answered not, but gazed at me intently, and impressed me at the time with the bellef of the correctness of my supposition.

I have generally observed that Muller was most earpest in protesting his innocence when directly charged with murder. Statements such as baving
